Saving You Money

CONSERVATIVES ON YOUR SIDE!

After twelve years of Labour's mismanagement of Britain's economy the challenges that face Governments, both nationally and locally, have been enormous. Public revenue spending had been allowed, year after year, to take up an ever growing part of GDP, and public debt has consequently mushroomed out of control. This is what Conservatives inherited at County Hall when we took over in 2005, and it grew worse in the two years that followed. We have had to get to grips with a major savings programme, reducing our overall budget by over 30%, yet still protecting vital services and doing all we can to expand our local economy and keep local council taxes low.

Over the last eight years, the Conservatives have transformed the County Council and have consigned the inefficient and outdated ways of working to the history books. This has allowed us to improve the services we can offer, whilst ensuring we have maintained the lowest council tax of any county in the UK.

The improvements we have delivered also helped to ensure that the County Council is well placed to cope with the massive financial challenges that continue to put huge pressures on public services across the country. Not only have we been able to invest millions of pounds into those services that are of most importance to you, but we have also been able to freeze the Council Tax for the last two years, which has helped to keep more money in the hands of residents, helping to support our local economy. Every year since the Conservatives took control seven years ago, Northamptonshire's county council tax has been kept below the rate of inflation, and for all of those seven years Northamptonshire has had the lowest county council tax in the whole country. This is a record we are really proud of, and are determined to continue.

Not only have we transformed and improved the County Council, we have also been proactive in promoting Northamptonshire both nationally and internationally as a destination of choice for inward investment. We have already attracted millions of pounds of new investment and attracted new jobs to the County.

Providing quality services for an ever increasing and ageing population during a time of national austerity is not easy, but we can be proud of our record and be confident that the building blocks for future success are now firmly in place. We are determined that Northamptonshire County Council, under the Conservatives, will continue to protect and provide for all our vulnerable residents who truly cannot help themselves, support those who are able to help themselves to do so, and work to build a buoyant local economy, with good jobs, good educational opportunities and a good quality of life which we can all enjoy and be proud of.

SAVING YOU MONEY

Lowest Council Tax in the Country

For the second year in a row, we have frozen council tax, meaning Northamptonshire still has the lowest Council Tax of any county in the country.

Frozen Councillors' Allowances

We have frozen allowances for councillors for the past seven years, helping to keep the costs of democracy in Northamptonshire down. This is in stark contrast to the Liberal Democrats who were the only Group to vote for an increase despite the financial challenges facing the Council.

Cutting Senior Management

Our review of the Council's senior management saved taxpayers almost £2m, and in addition to this we also removed a senior manager's bonus scheme, saving a further £350,000. Our new streamlined management structure will now deliver over £3 million of savings as we work more efficiently.

IMPROVING YOUR ROADS

Thanks to our £30m investment in the county's roads, we were the only council to have registered an improvement in Highways maintenance. We have also seen a 23% reduction in reported road and footway defects and our approach to ensuring Northamptonshire has the best roads possible has won national praise.

EXTRA INVESTMENT FOR WINTER GRITTING

As we look towards winter, the extra £1m we invested in gritting will mean more of Northamptonshire's roads will be cleared. In addition to this there will be an enhanced footway clearance programme as well as more grit bins. Wintry conditions can be very tricky for older residents; therefore we introduced a trial pilot in partnership with the NHS to undertake additional snow clearance on footways which is carried out by the Probation Service as part of the Community Payback scheme.

BOOSTING THE ECONOMY

Saving the British Grand Prix

Our nationally recognised £10m loan to Silverstone in May 2010 not only helped secure the future of the British Grand Prix at Silverstone for 17 years it also helped ensure the future of thousands of jobs and businesses in the county, not only in the high tech engineering industry but also in small local businesses that rely heavily on the event for a major part of their annual income.

Delivering Superfast broadband

The County Council's broadband plan, which would bring potential internet speeds of 30Mb/sec for every household in the county, is in the top five schemes nationally to have received a green light. We are aiming for 90 per cent of the county to have superfast broadband speeds by the end of 2015 with 100 per cent coverage by the end of 2017. Clearly in a world where online connectivity is a key measure of competitiveness, rolling out superfast broadband will help to cement Northamptonshire's position as a leading economy in the East Midlands.

Boosting our economy

Through Northamptonshire Enterprise Partnership, the County Council has helped to create or support nearly 800 jobs and secure significant additional funding for the county which will be invested through a number of programmes, including £5.8m through the Growing Places Fund.

Empowering Councillors Scheme

Our Empowering Councillors Scheme has helped councillors support local groups and organisations, as well provide improvements that benefit the whole community. During the last financial year (2011/12), 486 grants were approved totalling £436,194.93 and since the schemes inception, a total of £3,144,211.18 has been paid in grants to benefit communities across Northamptonshire.

ADAM SIMMONDS' BID TO BECOME

If you are a voter in Northamptonshire, on November 15th you will be able to elect your first Police and Crime Commissioner. Commissioners will replace police authorities and give the public a real voice on policing and justice, cut crime and deliver a more efficient police service. They will not be expected to run the police.

The role of the PCC is to be the voice of the people and hold the police to account. The role will be answerable to a local police and crime panel made up of councillors and independent members. Adam Simmonds is the Conservative candidate and he wants to make Northamptonshire the safest place in England. He says, "Police and crime commissioners will have the power to represent local people and bring about much needed improvements. No-one is saying everything is working as well as it could be at the moment. Nor is the answer to the problems money at the problems.

I want to see our police and justice systems working better for local people, particularly for victims of crime. Just because things have always been done in a certain way does not mean we should not change. I want to see new ideas and approaches to Northamptonshire's residents in bringing about change for the better.

I will be a progressive, considered and modern thinking Commissioner. I will not shy away from operational responsibilities. I do not want issues to become party political and will work with the new Northamptonshire Police and Crime Panel.

I will listen to the experiences and concerns of ordinary people, especially where public concerns are reflected in policing priorities, while remaining a vigilant and fair to all minorities. And I will listen to concerns and ideas from rank and file police officers. When I meet I will be open and honest about what can and cannot be done.

I will protect local neighbourhood policing so locally responsive policing happens in neighbourhood police teams and want to see office staff re-deployed to increase the presence on the beat.

I will improve police response and will want clear minimum response times for 999 or non emergency numbers. I want officers trained to focus on the needs of the community.

I want to see wider approaches to crime reduction, working closely with the courts to reduce re-offending. And better systems so people with mental health problems can be supported in the criminal justice system without the causes of their offending behaviour being education, family support and employment on levels of crime.

Much is known about what policing strategies can reduce crime and what this debate about policing. I will not be afraid to pilot innovative approaches to crime reduction.

As Commissioner my prime focus will be on crime and policing in Northamptonshire, but also to the wider national picture for example on cross-border crime and terrorism. I will work to maximise the benefits to be gained from a devolved policing system."

Improving Educational Attainment

The percentage of 5 year olds achieving a good level of learning in the Early Years Foundation Stage Profile increased from 51% to 61% between 2008 and 2011 and the percentage of our children and young people achieving good GCSEs including English and maths has increased from 45.4% in 2008 to 55% in 2011. In addition to this, only 5 schools have been deemed by Ofsted to be in special measures in 2010/11, which is a significant reduction from 14 in 2008/09.

Hot School Meals

The County Council's hot meals service for schools now provides over 25,000 meals a day. Since the start of the service last September we have seen a 50 per cent increase in the take-up of free school meals and we are very proud that irrespective of whether the meals are free or paid for, our schoolchildren have at least one nutritionally-balanced hot meal a day.

YOUNG PEOPLE

Youth Services Transformed

Northamptonshire County Council's youth service is one of the top performing in the country following a record number of young people taking part in youth activities. There are now more than 21,000 young people getting involved in youth activities, compared to just 3,000 under Labour, when it was branded as a failing service by Ofsted.

Keeping Sure Start Centres Open

Sure Start centres offer a range of activities for children and their families throughout Northamptonshire. The Conservatives are committed to ensuring that these valued services continue and are available to families across Northamptonshire, which is why no Sure Start centre in the county has closed.

Apprenticeship Scheme

The County Council's innovative apprenticeship scheme ensures that a considerable number of young people from the county have the opportunity to become apprentices on County Council capital projects such as building new roads, schools etc, and get a real hands-on chance to literally help build the county's economic prosperity.

ADAM SIMMONDS PCC Q & A

1. Why have you decided to run for the position of Police and Crime Commissioner?

I'm running to make Northamptonshire the Safest Place in England, because I believe I can make a real difference across a whole host of issues that impact directly on our communities.

2. How do you see the role making a difference to the residents of Northamptonshire?

This is an amazing opportunity. It is an opportunity not just to engage with a large number of people and communities and to do something no one has ever done before, but to lead and to advocate on behalf of 700,000 people, bring our local public sector together and get the criminal justice system working collectively together in an accountable way.

3. What are your key priorities for policing in the county?

I have a great many things I want to achieve for Northamptonshire over the next four years. I want to see more Police on the beat and 4,000 fewer victims of violent crime recorded within 5 years. I want antisocial behaviour to be a Force-wide priority and for it to lead coordination of fighting it. I want to institute a no tolerance approach for inappropriate street-drinking - if you misbehave in a street or town you will be subject to arrest, a criminal record and due punishment. I want to relaunch a countywide Special Constabulary and provide more powers for PCSOs. I want to see budgets devolved to local communities and establish a Victims Commission. I will consider a Northants Drugs Squad and provide new Blue Light Response Guarantees. I could go on!

4. With police numbers falling nationally, do you feel Northamptonshire receives a fair deal from Central Government?

Everyone is aware that the state of the economy is making life very difficult for the public sector and the private sector. This means we all have to get more out of what we have. However, by next year we will have the same number of police officers as we did in 2004. But I can't spend the next 4 years blaming the Government - I need to get on and deliver the best and fairest possible deal for Northamptonshire that I can.

5. The Police and Crime Commissioner will be a unique position in the County with wide ranging responsibilities; how do you envisage the relationship you will have with other public sector organisations such as the County Council and The Courts Service?

The PCC is a unique role indeed representing the whole county. I want to be a bridge-builder, someone that brings people together. I need to make current partnerships work, as well as building new ones. It's amazing what can be achieved when you don't care who gets the credit.

6. How would you increase the amount of contact residents can have with police officers in their communities?

A lot of communities already have good contact with the Police. But I will be setting a clear priority that Police get out and about away from cars and stations. I will also be relaunching the Special Constabulary and encouraging local people to help police their local communities. With me as the PCC, together with the Chief Constable, we will also making more effort to visit local communities. It is my commitment that people will see a lot more of the Police.

7. As a high profile figure, how would you use the office of Police and Crime Commissioner to connect with children and young people and ensure their voice is heard?

I want to hold Young Adults Gatherings - a conference for young people to attend and engage in discussion and debate with the Force in order to connect properly with them. I feel very strongly that young people should be engaged in their communities and working with them. There are a lot of exciting ideas that could be realised if people vote for me and I become the Northamptonshire Police and Crime Commissioner.

NORTHAMPTONSHIRE FIRE AND RESCUE SERVICE

Northamptonshire County Council's Fire and Rescue Service has won a special recognition award at the first-ever BBC 999 Awards. Winning such a special recognition is a real honour and a tribute to the hard work and dedication we see from all of our firefighters each and every day. Their excellent work has also been recognised by the Fire Fighters Charity who have shortlisted Northamptonshire for the Brigade of the year award.

Cash-risk fear over council's music festival

BY SOPHIE SCOTT
sophie.scott@nhpnorthants.co.uk

CONCERNS have been raised over the financial risks surrounding a planned council-organised major three-day music festival at Delapre Abbey.

Leader of Northampton Borough Council (NBC) David Mackintosh revealed on Tuesday that the authority was going to be hosting a weekend of live music at the historic venue next July.

NBC will be underwriting the costs and use the services of an outside company to run it. The plan is for it to be an annual event over the next three years.

But rival politicians have questioned the financial risk it may pose to taxpayers and that the decision was 'delegated' by Cllr Mackintosh – which means it does not have to go to Cabinet.

Cllr Brendan Glynnane, ward councillor for Delapre and Lib Dem leader, said: "What does concern me as a councillor is that I receive more details from the media than I have from the council."

"I also feel that a lot of people should have been involved in this decision, like the local residents' association and the Friends of Delapre Abbey as well as the local community.

"What I would really like to know is about the liability. We need to understand if it is limited or unlimited. If this was to go pear-shaped, is it going to cost £20,000, £40,000, £50,000?"

"I am all in favour of things happening at Delapre Abbey. But we did have, this year, tremendously bad weather and rain. I have had a number of complaints about the fair that it has churned up the ground quite badly. We need reassurances from the council that this not going to happen."

Labour leader Cllr Terry Wire said: "I have no problem in principle of organising large-scale music events."

"However, with so many other challenges at the moment, like town centre regeneration and sorting out enterprise, I do question whether now is the right time to be doing this."

"I remain to be convinced that these music events will financially break even for the council and also whether they have thought all the implications through, like security costs and car parking."

"For instance, the Balloon Festival made losses only a few years ago."

"The proposals for these music events have been made in secret using the delegated power of the leader of the council. Therefore there has been no time to scrutinise whether these events will work."

Cllr Mackintosh said: "There is a risk if it does go wrong. But what we want to see here at Delapre Abbey is it become the jewel in the town's crown. We have seen the success of other concerts like when Elton John played at the cricket ground. People came from all around to see that.

"We have assessed all the risks towards the funding and it is clear that this type of event will generate income. We have to be aware of the risk but this will be raising money for the future of the council.

"We took the view that 2012 was a very busy year with the Olympics, Paralympics, Jubilee and next year we will be able to bill Northampton as a top destination.

"If it had gone to Cabinet then there would have been less time to secure big artists. All the due processes has been followed."

Cllr Brandon Eldred said:

PLANNING: Cllr David Mackintosh at the Abbey

"It is going to be self-funding and hopefully any money made will be able to go back into Delapre Abbey."

Graham Walker, founding member of Friends of Delapre Abbey, welcomed the news. He said: "Anything that will help promote the Abbey is a good idea in my opinion. At the end of the day it is there to be used."

Acts will be confirmed over the coming weeks - but it is expected that they will be 'big names'. Between 6,000-7,000 people are expected to attend each day.

Ticket prices have not yet been released.

■ A council in Bedfordshire put on a similar event this summer and made a staggering £394,000 loss.

Luton Borough Council held a three-day music festival to tie in with the arrival of the Olympic Flame in the town but was this month forced to admit huge financial losses in hosting the event.

Big names such as The Wanted and Olly Murs could not pull in enough ticket sales to fund the event.

350 jobs affected as firm moves out of town base

BY SOPHIE SCOTT

sophie.scott@HPnorthants.co.uk

A MAJOR Northampton employer is to quit their town-based headquarters in a move affecting hundreds of jobs.

Blacks, which has a distribution centre and HQ in Swann Valley, Northampton, is to be relocated to Rochdale by next spring.

The company was bought by JD Sports Fashion in January for £20 million and has already closed more than 90 of its worst-performing stores across the country. Around 350 people work at the Northampton office.

In an announcement on Monday, executive chairman Peter Cowgill said: "Outside of the store base, our process to streamline the business and simplify its processes is ongoing.

"This process will not be completed until Spring 2013 when the warehouse

AT RISK: Blacks in Northampton and head office facility in Northampton is vacated. After this point, the Blacks business will be on the JD IT and distribution infrastructure."

Prison campaigners will hit street for minister's jail visit

PROTESTERS are planning to turn out in force when new prison minister Jeremy Wright comes to the county in the next few weeks.

They are angry he has not yet halted the closure of Wellingborough Prison which only has 248 prisoners left out of a capacity of 646.

It was announced in July the category C jail would close by the end of the year.

All prisoners are gradually being moved to other facilities.

Former justice secretary, Kenneth Clarke, said shutting the facility would save the prison service £10m.

As a result more than 600 prison places would be lost and 257 staff will be moved to other jails.

It was announced on Tuesday, that Mr Wright would be visiting the town's prison to see first-hand if it needs £50m spent on it to bring it up to scratch.

It followed a meeting with Wellingborough & Rushden MP Peter Bone.

Campaigner Lynne Holcombe, a prison officer's wife, said: "It is a good sign he is going to come up to visit the prison. We will carry on with the campaign and will demonstrate when he comes."

Cheap councillors are set to cost us more

PLANS to increase the basic allowance paid to councillors will be discussed today.

It comes just two weeks after it was revealed that councillors at Northamptonshire County Council received the lowest allowance of any county authority in the country.

Under the proposal, this would be raised but the special responsibility allowance would be reduced - which would save £88,000 a year.

The report into the plan was produced by the Independent Panel for Councillors' Allowances.

The document states: "From May 2013, proposals approved by the Local Government Boundary Commission for England will reduce the number of councillors from 73 to 57, a reduction of some 28 per cent.

"The remaining 57 councillors will be responsible for serving a growing number of constituents. This will substantially increase the workload of 'backbench' councillors, something which the Panel feel should be reflected in the new scheme of allowances."

It adds: "It should be noted that although this represents an increase in the rate of basic allowance paid to each councillor, the overall cost of the scheme will fall because of the reduction in the number of councillors."

It adds that a new allowance should be created for councillors who are members of the council's fostering and adoption panels.

Robert Oxley, campaign manager at the TaxPayers' Alliance said: "The last thing hard-pressed families would deserve is for their elected representatives to prioritise their own allowances and expenses above the provision of frontline services."

"Councillors will undermine a number of the sensible measures in these proposals if they vote themselves such an increase."

"It's absolutely right that the overly generous proliferation of special allowances is cut as are steps to reduce the excessive number of councillors at Northampton."

Shirt tribute snub for stunned Liverpool fan

BY SOPHIE SCOTT

sophie.scott@HPnorthants.co.uk

A LIVERPOOL supporter has been left angry and upset after a sports shop refused to put a tribute to the Hillsborough victims on his replica football kit.

Nick Bieber, 18, asked Sports Direct in Riverside, Northampton, to put 'Justice 96' on the back of his Liverpool shirt in the wake of last week's report which vindicated fans over the tragedy.

However his request was rejected and he says he was told to print it would 'cause offence to the public'.

It comes at the same time the company and Newcastle United's billionaire owner, Mike Ashley, was seen publicly supporting a tribute to the victims at his team's match on Monday against Everton on Merseyside.

Mr Bieber, of Weston Favell, was informed Sportsdirect.com's head office had told staff not to allow the printing of such words on football shirts, he says.

Robbie Fowler, the ex-Liverpool player, retweeted a message from Mr Bieber on twitter about the incident to his 357,000 followers.

Ninety six people died at an FA Cup semi-final between the Anfield side and Nottingham Forest at the Sheffield Wednesday ground in 1989.

Families and friends of victims have spent 23 years campaigning to get the truth behind what really happened on that fateful day.

Mr Bieber said: "I just want to help support my team. The club has had to cope with 23 years of this. I wanted this to support the families. To be disallowed is upsetting and not what you expect from a nationwide sports store. I hold the club close to my heart and wanted to pay tribute to that."

A spokeswoman for Sportsdirect.com said: "Unfortunately Sportsdirect.com is unable to comment on this occasion."

We're No1 when it comes to enterprise

THE county has been named as the most enterprising place in Britain by the government department responsible for supporting economic growth in the country.

The blue-riband prize was given to Northamptonshire County Council for its innovative approach to boosting prosperity in the county, particularly its work in safeguarding the British Grand Prix at Silverstone and success in supporting local businesses through initiatives such as the INV-ENT scheme.

The authority also picked up an award for encouraging export through its work with Northamptonshire Enterprise Partnership and the establishment of a European investment team based in Brussels.

The Entprising Britain competition was run by the Department for Business, Innovation and Skills (BIS) and was looking for the place that could best demonstrate a positive impact of enterprise on the community over the past two years.

Leader of Northamptonshire County Council, Councillor Jim Harker, said: "To be named the most enterprising place in Britain is a wonderful achievement for Northamptonshire and recognises our innovative and long term approach to delivering economic prosperity."

STAFF from a fast food chain will be leaving the kitchen and heading into the great outdoors to help tidy a park.

Eight employees from McDonald's restaurants in Northampton will be joining forces with Northampton Borough Council neighbourhood wardens and community groups to clear Becket's Park on Sunday.

The event is one of more than 400 large-scale clean-ups organised by the food chain across the country to support Keep Britain Tidy's Love Where You Live campaign.

Volunteers will begin litter picking at the skate park at 9.30am before heading to Becket's.

Since the beginning of April there have been 20 burglaries in the town where gold jewellery has been stolen.

There are also plans to meet with representatives from the Sikh and Hindu communities in coming weeks as well as visit local mosques.

Northampton Sector Inspector, Jen Helm, said: "We are aware of concerns about these burglaries and want to reassure people that we are taking the matter seriously and investigations are ongoing."

"There has been an increase in the theft of Asian gold nationally and we have had 20 such incidents in Northampton since the beginning of April. The increase in the value of precious metals, including gold, means high value jewellery has become a target for criminals.

"Our specialist officers are investigating these crimes while at the same time our Community Engagement officers are offering advice and reassurance to victims."

People have been advised to take security precautions such as buying a safe and being cautious when wearing jewellery in public.

facebook ban for police's 'foul' friends

BY SOPHIE SCOTT

sophie.scott@HPnorthants.co.uk

FACEBOOK users have been banned from using the police fan page after a wall post commented on by numerous people contained 'racist and xenophobic' comments.

The Northamptonshire Police site on the social network was hijacked by the thread and the Force responded by taking the entire post down.

It was also added that specific users had been blocked from using the page because of 'foul language' and racist comments.

It is not clear exactly the nature of the discussion but it is the first time a whole string of comments has been removed from the page.

On Monday lunchtime, the police posted: 'We have deleted an entire thread from this page due to racist and xenophobic posts - please remember this is a public forum and whilst we encourage debate we do not tolerate racist comments or foul language.'

Almost 50 have since commented on that post continuing the discussion into the original.

More than 21,000 people 'like' the page.

In July, users were told to stop reporting crimes on the page and some people had their comments removed due to their 'inappropriate' content.

Burglars continue rampage on OAPs

BY LAWRENCE JOHN
lawrencejohn@HPnorthants.co.uk

THREE more distraction burglaries involving violence on elderly people have been reported to police.

These follow seven cases last week which included, as reported in the H&P, a raid on the home of a 92-year-old who feared for his life after he was attacked and left with bruising and cuts to his face.

Detective Inspector Lorraine Gordon, who is leading the investigation, said: "These callous individuals are clearly targeting the elderly to commit these horrific crimes and what makes them worse is the violence or threat of violence used."

"We can't stress enough how important it is for the elderly or vulnerable not to open the door if they do not recognise the caller."

"We have had a number of cases recently where victims are opening the door without verifying who the caller is."

"We are carrying out regular patrols in the neighbourhoods and issuing leaflets in the area. Investigators are working to identify the offenders responsible. We would ask members of the public to contact us immediately if they have any information that can help the investigation and quote Operation Inferno when they call."

The latest distraction burglaries happened on Monday between noon and 1.15pm in Thorn Hill, Northampton.

The offender pretended to be from the water board in order to get into the house of a 83-year-old man where he stole cash. The second incident happened at 9.45pm in Redruth Close.

In this case the offender claimed to be a neighbour of the 82-year-old victim before barging into the house and stealing cash and jewellery. The third incident was at 10.30pm in Euston Road.

The offender said he was from the water board and pushed his way into the home of an 87-year-old woman. They stole a handbag and cash from the property. In each case the offenders used or threatened violence against the victims.

Five people have been arrested in connection with an aggravated burglary following a break-in at the home of an 81-year-old woman in Queen Eleanor Road, Northampton.

The incident took place at around 6pm on Tuesday evening and two men, aged 21 and 31, and three women, aged 27, 30 and 59, were arrested shortly afterwards and are currently in custody at Weston Favell Police Station.

Stables to show its work on 'memorial pitch' land

THE leader of a council is being invited to a riding school to speak with its owner about plans which she believes would shut the business down.

Lucy Clifton, proprietor of All-Work Equestrian Centre on Eagle Drive, Northampton, is concerned about proposals to build a training ground and memorial pitch on land which she currently leases from Northampton Borough Council for her horses to graze on.

Mrs Clifton, whose parents opened the riding school and livery yard in 1987, has a provisional appointment with leader, Councillor David Mackintosh, on Monday at the Guildhall but thinks the stables would be a more appropriate location.

There are plans in the pipeline for the land off Eagle Drive to be turned into a training ground for Saints Rugby Club and a football pitch in memory of Northampton-born footballer Richard Butler who died last January.

Mrs Clifton said: "I feel since the moment we have found out about the plans we have hardly been told anything by the council."

LAND BATTLE: All-Work Equestrian proprietor Lucy Clifton with Jazmin Bass who is riding Smoky the horse

"I have been asking for a while for Cllr Mackintosh to come and see the work we do here. I couldn't attend a meeting organised at the Guildhall at 8.30am on Monday as I need to take my children to school."

"If that land is taken away from us, I will have nowhere to keep the horses. They can't spend all their time cooped up."

"I do support the memorial pitch and what they are trying to achieve."

Jazmin Bass, who has cerebral palsy, has been learning to ride at the centre for two years.

The 15-year-old said: "Being able to come here has really helped me. My balance has improved so much and so has my self-esteem. I really hope to go into the Paralympics now. It would be terrible if I couldn't come anymore."

Cllr Mackintosh said: "We are in the very early stages and officers from the council have already had meetings and discussions with the equestrian centre on several occasions."

"We have been trying to set up a meeting with the equestrian centre and will continue to try."

"They have cancelled the meeting which we had arranged on Monday but we are happy to meet with them at a time that suits everyone."

"We will need to ask residents, businesses and interested parties what they think about leasing public land."

"The planning process will give everyone a chance to have their say on any proposals."

Boozers get chance

BY LAWRENCE JOHN

lawrencejohn@HPnorthants.co.uk

PEOPLE sober up very quickly the morning after a night out drinking, when they are shown a DVD of their bad behaviour.

This is not being played to them by their friends or family in a fun atmosphere but is being shown to them in their own home by police.

For the individual being spoken to it is the moment when the chickens come home to roost and they realise what a state they were in the night before.

Watching this 'film of shame' is part of Northamptonshire Police's Operation Challenge which launched in April and deals with drink related violence.

Chief Inspector Andy Cox said: "When we show them the DVD they are apologetic for what they have done."

"They say what they have seen has taught them a lesson and they will not do it again."

"One such offender recently told an Operation Challenge officer 'I was an accident waiting to happen' and 'I was a fool, I deserved it'."

"Again, we are asking people to stop and think - is it worth it?"

"What they see hits them hard and it does change their attitude. In the long term this has got to be good."

"So far we have arrested 42 people. What we want to do is change the culture of going out. We want people to be aware of their limits so they do not drink too much and know what is an acceptable level of behaviour."

Chief Inspector

"I would say our responsibility is to protect people from harm."

"If we can prevent crimes from happening in our town centres then we can keep people safe."

"One lady was unable to stand and as a result she was in a vulnerable position. So taking her off the streets meant she was safe." This element of Operation Challenge focuses on urging people to think about the consequences of becoming involved in violence especially when they have drunk too much.

Police are holding a high impact month which will crack down on alcohol related violence in Northampton.

CI Cox said: "We will be targeting people who are drunk in the town centre, those urinating in public, vomiting in the

"What we want to do is to keep people from becoming involved in trouble or becoming a victim."

"We also want to keep the streets safe for everyone else."

Those who are arrested are taken to the mobile police custody village in All Saints, Northampton, and processed.

They are given the opportunity to either face the consequences of their actions or attend an appointment with DAARS (Drug and Alcohol Referral Scheme).

The choices are:

■ Pay the fine in the usual manner

■ Request a court hearing

■ Have the fine waived by electing to attend and engage with two alcohol awareness sessions at CAN Drug And Alcohol Services.

If you choose to attend the two sessions and successfully complete both within 28 days from the date the Penalty Notice for Disorder was issued, CAN will contact the ticket office and the fine will be cancelled.

The offence will then not appear on any future criminal records check.

Cloudy2Clear Windows – Service With A Smile!

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Managing Director Trevor Skidmore feels that it's all about service. 'Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 5 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done. We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole.'

Cloudy2Clear service the Northampton, Kettering, Wellingborough & Corby areas and Trevor is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success. 'The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated.'

Ed is No1 with music pirates

BY SOPHIE SCOTT

sophie.scott@HNorthants.co.uk

BRITISH singer-songwriter Ed Sheeran is the most illegally downloaded artist in Northampton, new figures have shown.

The numbers collected by data firm Musicmetric and published by the BBC have revealed that those from the town can't get enough of the man behind songs such as The A-Team and You Need Me, But I Don't Need You.

It is estimated that Sheeran's tracks are downloaded unlawfully 416 times a month in the town with urban R'n'B artist Drake the second most popular in the area.

The town follows a national trend which saw Sheeran top the list of music piracy in the UK with an estimated 55,500 of his songs downloaded every month making him the most popular for the crime in 460 towns. He was followed by Brighton hip-hop duo Rizzle Kicks and platinum selling artist Rihanna.

Manchester was found to be the UK's capital of piracy for downloads per person with Nottingham second, Southampton in third and Liverpool and Sheffield making up fourth and fifth respectively.

MP raps press over topless Kate images

A COUNTY MP has branded the European press which published topless photographs of the Duchess of Cambridge as 'justifying the actions of a peeping tom'.

It was French magazine Closer which published images of Katherine sunbathing while on holiday in France.

On Tuesday a court banned Closer from re-publishing or distributing the photos. The magazine was also told to hand over the original copies. Northampton North MP Michael Ellis said: "I think what has happened is nauseating and appalling.

"This has been motivated by pure greed and is intolerable.

"Even if this was a member of the public or a pop celebrity then this behaviour is no better than the behaviour of a peeping tom."

Resident is putting his money on candidate Jim

Jim MacArthur

I HAVE spent some time deciding the sort of experience, qualifications and personal qualities I would like to see in our first Police and Crime Commissioner. Having done so, in a non-partisan and a non-political manner, I compared all the candidates who have declared they will be standing at the election for that post.

I have decided that Jim MacArthur, the UKIP candidate, is the only one who fulfils all the criteria I believe to be essential to be a successful Police and Crime Commissioner.

He has spent his entire life-long professional career either being part of, or supporting the forces of law and order and fighting crime.

In addition he has worked in senior executive positions involving crime reduction for major UK companies. We do not really need PCCs and it is definitely inappropriate for it to be a political role.

Consequently I am impressed that he does not see the PCC role as a political one and is refusing to accept any financial assistance from any political party and his campaign is therefore completely self-financed. Put simply I believe that he is, by a large margin, clearly the best man for the job and I will therefore be fully supporting his candidacy.

Burglar deserves to be shamed

YOUR front page with the 92-year-old who was beaten by the distraction burglar was heart-breaking to read.

How could the offender attack him like that in his own home? I sure an intruder would have been enough for him to hand over the cash without resorting to violence.

This criminal has stooped so low and from what the police say there has been a rise in distraction burglars using violence.

It might not happen that often but it's so terrifying.

I hope the sight of that poor man's face will encourage the offender or anyone who may know of his actions to come forward.

He deserves to be named and shamed.

Get cancer views into system

THE Government is planning changes to the way new medicines are priced across the country.

These changes are likely to have a significant impact on millions of people living with cancer throughout the UK.

It is vitally important that the views of people with cancer are put at the heart of this new system. Prostate Cancer UK is concerned that the Government has not done enough to involve people with cancer in the development of the new arrangements.

We are determined to change this.

We urgently need people affected by all types of cancer to tell us why new medicines are valuable to them.

We will present these views to the Government to ensure the voice of people with cancer is heard loud and clear.

As someone who has had cancer, I know how vital it is that effective medicines that make the biggest difference to people with cancer are approved for use on the NHS in all parts of the United Kingdom.

Please take part in our short survey now to help deliver this outcome.

Council may pull plug on infected fountain

■ Norman Adams' comments to the council on September 10, 2012: 'First I would like to mention the question of people who raised matters relating to health concerns with the Market Square fountain being branded 'irresponsible'.

'I would hope that Cllr Clarke in particular will be given an apology.

'It is very clear to me that this council was aware of the situation regarding the failed water test in September 2011 and the second one to my understanding on August 2, 2012 which was not acted on until August 14. 'A water test is very much like an MOT it only really says that it was safe on the day of the inspection.

'The previous all clear on the fountain was July 5, 2012 so it is quite feasible that the fountain was running with unsatisfactory levels for the period July 6 to August 14.

That is 40 days so if we are to use the term irresponsible - then that label belongs to this administration. And talking about irresponsible - who removed the on site wardens from

Sheltered Housing? - I have just read about an 92-year-old attacked. .'

Awareness bid to stop station bicycle thieves

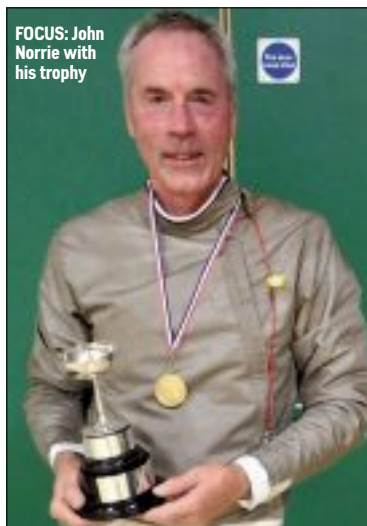

BRITISH Transport Police and Network Rail are joining forces to protect cyclists using train stations across Northamptonshire. A cycle surgery was recently held at Northampton station and was a chance for officers to provide crime prevention advice to cyclists and make sure passengers had their bikes securely marked. Simon Whitehorn, Network Rail general manager, said: "I hope events such as these will increase public awareness about bike security and make opportunistic thieves think twice about stealing a bike."

John's on guard in bid to win election

FOCUS: John Norrie with his trophy

BY SOPHIE SCOTT
sophie.scott@HPnorthants.co.uk

A HOPEFUL in this November's Police and Crime Commissioner election has given up his chance to appear at the fencing World Championships to focus on his campaign.

John Norrie, who was last weekend crowned county champion in Sabre, has competed in the sport from a young age and held on to his title for the second year in a row.

Mr Norrie, 63, was selected to appear in the Veterans World Championship in Austria next month but turned down the opportunity.

He is up against five other candidates for the police job and said he wants to focus on his campaign in the coming weeks; especially as he is Independent and does not have an association with a political party.

He said: "I chose to give my energies to the people of Northampton and I have turned down my place. I want to give all my energies into getting elected."

"It would have been 11 days in October to do that and that wouldn't have been good timing."

"When you do any sport at an international level you have to be able to perform under pressure and to be able to relax to do that and I think that will really help me."

■ The other candidates are: Lee Barron (Labour), Adam Simmonds (Conservative), Paul Varnsberry (Liberal Democrat), Jim MacArthur (UKIP) and Matt Stockdale (Independent).

Breast is best for new cause

BY LAWRENCE JOHN
lawrencejohn@hpnorthants.co.uk

THE county's first ever charity dedicated to breastfeeding will be launched on Sunday.

Northamptonshire Breastfeeding Alliance will burst into life during a family fun day at Grange Park Pavilion, in Northampton from 2pm to 4pm.

A number of activities and schemes will also take place from September 24 to 28 as part of Northants Breastfeeding Awareness Week.

This annual event will include the launch of a breastfeeding welcome scheme which will award local cafes and businesses with recognition for welcoming mothers.

Co-chairwoman of Northamptonshire Breastfeeding Alliance (NBA), Briony Askew, said: "The high-profile Save the Northampton Baby Café campaign earlier this year had highlighted significant failings in the county's breastfeeding support services and showed that the views and opinions of parents regarding local breastfeeding issues were being largely ignored by key decision makers.

"The passionate parents behind that campaign were determined to change this and after months of planning we are now in a position to launch the county's first ever dedicated breastfeeding charity. "Our mission is to support, protect, promote and normalise breastfeeding in the county so that local mothers and families have the opportunity to fulfil a positive breastfeeding journey.

MISSION:

"As the voice of breastfeeding mums and babies, NBA representatives will act as committee members on local breastfeeding strategy groups. We will also plan various fundraising and awareness initiatives throughout the year.

"We are very excited to kick it all off with our family fun day on Sunday followed by the first ever Northants Breastfeeding Awareness Week."

Concern museums will suffer over statue sale block

MUSEUM funding could be cut if a £2 million Egyptian statue is not sold.

The leader of Northampton Borough Council, Councillor David Mackintosh, has warned that if it doesn't go ahead then cuts may hit the museum service.

The decision to sell the item has been put on hold by a 'Call In' submitted by the Labour Group. Cllr Mackintosh said: "Instead of having to cut funding to the museums in the forthcoming budget, we have a plan here that will allow us to invest in them."

"By selling the statue we would be able to raise a significant amount of money to invest in our heritage projects and the museum service but Labour have now jeopardised that."

Labour group leader, Cllr Terry Wire, said: "It is paramount people and local heritage groups have their say on the selling of the statue and that's why we have done a 'call-in'."

A date has yet to be set for the next meeting.

Court battle to stop wind farm approval

BY SOPHIE SCOTT

sophie.scott@HPnorthants.co.uk

A LEGAL challenge has been submitted to the High Court against planning permission for a wind farm.

South Northamptonshire Council (SNC) initially refused permission for the Spring Farm Ridge proposal but in July it was given consent on appeal.

The plan, put forward by Broadview Energy Limited, would include five turbines on land between Helmdon and Greatworth.

The council believes it would have a major impact on the landscape and heritage assets that are within 5km of the proposed site.

The authority started legal proceedings last month under sections 66 and 72 of the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990.

ENERGY: A wind farm

Councillor Stephen Clarke, chairman of the development control committee, said: "Wind energy is important but it has to be in the right place and should not have a negative impact on the community or the countryside, and we believe this was not taken fully into account at the appeal."

"It is our view that the inspector disregarded the local landscape policies that protect our heritage in favour of the national policies contained within the National Planning Policy Framework that promotes the use of renewable resources."

"We believe that the inspector did not follow the provision of the law when considering the balance between heritage and renewable energy and failed to have 'special regard' for the desirability of preserving the listed buildings and conservation areas which the law requires."

Agency to test town's flood warning alarms

FIVE flood warning sirens will be tested in Northampton today. The alarms are located in the St James and Far Cotton areas of the town and will be sounded from 10am to 2pm by the Environment Agency.

Anyone who hears the sirens should not be alarmed and do not need to take action. John Ray, flood incident management team leader, said: "The sirens are an integral part of our flood warning system in Northampton. We test them every year to make sure they are working effectively. The test will involve the intermittent sounding of the sirens before all five sirens are sounded together.

"We apologise for any disturbance this may cause but we hope people understand we need to be sure the sirens will work in an emergency."

If the sirens sound at any other time, ring 0845 988 1188.

Saints sell shares to help fund new stand

BY LAWRENCE JOHN
lawrence.john@HPnorthants.co.uk

SAINTS fans are being urged to back a share sale which would raise £500,000 to help build a new north stand at the club's Franklin's Gardens grounds.

Northampton Saints plc announced on Monday details of how shares, which are currently held by the Trustees of the old Members' Club, will be made available for sale.

The club's chief executive Allan Robson said the investment which will come from the share sale will be vital as the club continues to grow and maintain its place at the top of English rugby.

He said: "We are progressing well with our plans to develop

FAIR SHARE: An artist's impression of the proposed North Stand

Franklin's Gardens and this share sale will help ensure that the stadium remains the best of its kind in the country.

"The sale will ensure supporters continue to have a tangible stake in the club as a whole and the new North Stand in particular.

"Success breeds success, and by helping the club develop the stadium without incurring debt the supporters who take part in the share sale will have enabled us to continue the high levels of investment that have been made into making Northampton Saints one of the top sides in England."

Shares will be available at £1 each with supporters able to offer to buy multiples of 50 shares above a minimum transaction of 250. For more details, visit www.northamptonssaints.co.uk/share_sale

Be quick to chill out...

THEATREWOMAN IN BLACK

Royal & Derngate

Tuesday, October 9 to Saturday, October 13

YOU'D better move smartish to get tickets to see this chilling tale as they are being snapped up fast.

The highly-acclaimed stage production is celebrating its 25th anniversary with a major tour.

This year's blockbusting film adaptation starring Daniel Radcliffe has brought the story's popularity to new heights and tickets for the Northampton run are almost sold out.

Based on Susan Hill's best-selling novel, the play tells the tale of a lawyer obsessed with a curse that he believes has been cast over him and his family by the spectre of a 'Woman in Black'.

He engages a young actor to help him tell his story and to exorcise the fear that grips his soul.

It all begins innocently enough but as they reach further into his darkest memories they find themselves caught up in a world of eerie marshes and moaning winds.

The borders between make believe and reality begin to blur and the flesh begins to creep.

Stephen Mallatratt's celebrated stage adaptation combines the power and intensity of live theatre with a cinematic quality inspired by film noir.

The last few remaining tickets are priced from £11 to £26.50.

A SPY drama with a twist is being served shaken not stirred.

Written by Steve Dimmer and directed by Juliet O'Connor, James Bombed is based on the usual Ian Fleming characters but not quite as we know and love them.

Bombed is requested by Um (M) to locate the head of an organisation which is trying to eliminate all the leaders of the free world.

It sends Bombed across the globe in search of a ruthless band of women headed by Madam X called 'E.E.M.A.L.E'.

It is the first time the theatre has seen a car chase, ski scene and even an underwater scene on stage.

Get ready to laugh, groan and be astounded as James encounters a deadly spider, crocodiles, sharks and a constant stream of women.

Tickets are £8 or £6.50 concessions.

Did you know that forests in Europe, which provide wood for making into paper and many other widely used materials, are 30% larger than in 1950? In fact they're increasing by 1.5 million football pitches every year.*

If you love reading your favourite newspaper, isn't it good to know that it's made from natural and renewable wood.

Two Sides is an industry initiative to promote the responsible use of print and paper as a uniquely powerful and natural communications medium.

Get your brand closer to people's lives

No other medium is as close to people's hearts as Regional Press. Consumers consider it an integral part of their community. The effectiveness of regional press advertising in driving sales comes down to the simple fact that people prefer to do most of their spending close to where they live. Consumers' Choice V, a national consumer survey by TNS Media, found that regional press advertising is the most frequently acted upon, with 61% of people responding to it.

No wonder brands enjoy a closer relationship with consumers when advertised in this, the most trusted and effective medium of all.

Driving a Citroën C3 is simply Black and White

UNLESS you're averse to a monochromatic colour scheme, the Black and White C3 special editions clearly make the 75PS 1.4 petrol C3 a more attractive proposition, especially with the much-needed inclusion of air conditioning in the equipment pack.

The keener value is obviously a welcome bonus for buyers who had their eye on the now superseded C3 1.4i VT anyway and, based on the model's myriad virtues, there will have been no shortage of takers.

This is becoming an ever more talented class sector but, although essentially orthodox, the C3's MPV-like design features, roomy, well-designed cabin and much improved build quality stand up well.

With the lower powered of the C3's 1.4-litre petrol engines under the bonnet (the other version adds 20PS to this unit's 75PS), Citroën has chosen to give its special edition C3s an eager, flexible demeanour rather than a notably spirited one.

Performance against the clock is certainly adequate with a 0-60mph time of around 11 seconds but the refined, sweet-revving unit is more impressive in real-world conditions where its 136 Nm of torque at 4000rpm gives it a responsive, linear delivery that makes constant cog-swapping unnecessary and the C3 less frenetic than some of its rivals.

Which is probably just as well as the gearchange can be a little notchy at times. As with every other C3, the emphasis is on comfort, refinement and practicality, but that doesn't mean it isn't fun to drive within its limits.

As an all rounder, the C3 has a lot going for it and, as the Black and White, it cuts something of a dash, too.

LUVVLY BUBBLY: Oliver Gavin celebrates

Gavin: This one is for you Mum!

MOTOR SPORT

RACE ace Oliver Gavin captured his fourth American Le Mans Series (ALMS) Drivers' Championship by roaring to victory at the Virginia International Raceway.

The Yardley Hastings speedster claimed the honour at the ninth and penultimate round of the series, and it was fittingly his 100th ALMS race.

Thirty-nine-year-old Gavin also secured the manufacturers' championship for Chevrolet and the team title for Corvette Racing with his win – the 38th of his career – which he dedicated to his mother who has been in ill health.

It was a dominant display of racing by the GM factory driver who started third on the grid with his nearest championship rivals either side.

Gavin said: "Everything worked for us today, right from first corner on the first lap where there was a huge mess, with cars everywhere.

"I think I was most probably only millimetres away from hitting an LMP car but he just got out of the way in time and the danger evaporated.

"As I went through the gap I thought, 'this is definitely our day'. It was meant to be.

"We have always been fast and therefore in the right place to capitalise on anyone else's mistakes."

Next up for Gavin is the 1,000-mile or ten-hour Petit Le Mans race on October 20, where he will be hoping to finish the season in style.

For now though he can reflect on his title success, and he was quick to pay tribute to the efforts of everyone involved.

He said: "We had a fast car and could race anyone, but all the time we kept the pressure on and the pit stops going.

"That's really been the key to our successful season – everyone's performed at the highest level and delivered."

Johnson takes nothing for granted to get on with it as quickly as he could.

"I got a really big whack on the shin and I didn't realise for a week or two that I had done my ankle ligaments as well.

"It was really sore and I had to keep off it for a while and get through rehab, but obviously I'm delighted to be back."

While Johnson was out recuperating, manager Aidy Boothroyd brought in Hull full-back Danny East on a month-long loan.

The 20-year-old has put in some assured performances since then, but his harsh sending off in the weekend game at Fleetwood allowed Johnson the chance to return to the team.

Yet even after a good display in his comeback, Johnson admits that he cannot take for granted a place in the starting line-up.

"Danny East has come in and he's done brilliantly – he's been a real asset to the team," he said.

"Hopefully he can stay on and act as some competition because I think we need that throughout the squad.

"He got sent off in the last game, though, and that's allowed me to come into the team and hopefully keep a place for the next game, but that's a decision to be made by the gaffer."

FOOTBALL

LEAGUE TWO
DAGENHAM & REDBRIDGE 0
NORTHAMPTON TOWN 1

BY JAMES AVERILL

sport@hnpmedia.co.uk

FEW players who have represented Northampton Town over the years have had as much love as Adebayo Akinfenwa.

The big man brings a visible lift to Cobblers fans with his truly unique type of play, a style that has brought him admirers outside of Sixfields.

His soaring popularity among the football community has led to the centre-forward starting his own tee-shirt label, the HaHa! brand, whose shirts bear the slogans '2 Big 2 Play Football!' and his trademark Twitter hash-tag "#Beastmode"

And Akinfenwa well and truly engaged in beast mode in Tuesday's victory over Dagenham and Redbridge, his solitary strike being enough to give the Cobblers a 1-0 triumph at Victoria Road.

But it was not just the goal that singled out the forward – he gave the home defence a night they will no doubt want to forget as he bullied them out of it.

Akinfenwa was restored to the starting line-up after illness had denied him a place in the squad for last Saturday's visit to Fleetwood.

Another fans' favourite, John Johnson, returned at right back after recovering from a shin injury. Manager Aidy Boothroyd also gave a first league opportunity to summer signing Ishmel Demontagnac.

All three justified their selection, with Johnson putting in a trademark shift full of hard work and determination, while Demontagnac offered lightning pace and an eagerness to run at the opposition.

It was Akinfenwa who had the first real chance of the game, his superb chest control was too much for the Dagenham defender, who bounced off the big man. In the same manoeuvre he twisted and turned towards goal but his toe poke effort went agonisingly past the post.

The visitors were having to deal with Dagenham's very own beast, Brian Woodall, who was causing the Cobblers defence some problems with his height and strength. His looping volley that landed on the roof of the net was the highlight of their first-half chances. It didn't take long in the second half for the game to spark into life.

Chris Hackett's fantastic corner was met by Akinfenwa who rose unchallenged and powered home a header from six yards. It was a very simple goal, but the manner of the defending will not have pleased Daggers boss John Still.

Akinfenwa could have added to his tally further, but his header at the back post went narrowly wide.

Both teams had a host of half-chances, but the Cobblers never really looked like relinquishing their lead, and it was a superb defensive performance that left boss Boothroyd very happy.

"I thought we played really well and deserved to win the game," he said.

"We defended well. Dagenham are a good well-organised team but I think on tonight's performance we just edged it.

"So far this season we've been pretty strong at home but you've got to be able to win away from home as well if you want to be successful."

Boothroyd also reserved some special praise for Akinfenwa, a player he has not been scared to put on the bench if he feels it is in the best interests of the team.

"Bayo played really well, he led the line great and like I spoke about the other day, it's good to see that variety we've got in the team now."

Artemyev: We've yet to hit top gear

RUSSIAN winger Vasily Artemyev has warned Worcester that there is plenty more to come from the undefeated Saints.

The Warriors visit Franklin's Gardens on Saturday with Northampton hoping to maintain their 100 per cent start in the Premiership by picking up a fourth win from four.

Results-wise it has been an excellent start, but for Artemyev the side have not clicked into top gear, despite the trio of victories over Gloucester, Exeter and Bath.

"I don't think we are there yet," he said. "All of our games have been very close."

"We need to spend the weeks in training working on some shortcomings that didn't let us play to our full ability."

"I feel we can play better in every game and improve in every area."

Like Saints, Worcester have had three close games, but Richard Hill's side were narrowly edged out by both Bath and Leicester.

They avoided a defeat for the first time in their last match against Gloucester, which finished as a 16-16 draw at Sixways.

On paper at least, Saturday's game is perhaps the easiest the Saints have faced so far but Artemyev echoed the words of his boss Jim Mallinder by warning against complacency. He said: "Worcester have had very close games themselves and can be very good on their day."

"They are a very physical side and they have a lot of a good players. I think their half backs control the game very well."

"At times they can be very dangerous and they can really exploit opponents' errors."

"They have players to score breakaway tries too. We have to stay alert."

Knock on Wood had the medics baffled!

FRUSTRATION: Flanker Tom Wood has been plagued by injury problems

RUGBY

BY DAN PALMER
sport@snmedia.co.uk

FEW Saints players will be happier to pull on the jersey this season than Tom Wood.

The flanker has relished being part of the side which has begun the season with three straight wins after a miserable year which has been dominated by an unusual foot injury which made him fear for the rest of his career.

Twenty-five-year-old England man Wood separated the sesamoids in the ball of his left foot, a problem which doctors and physios struggled to treat as they just didn't know much about it.

His last game before this season was a clash with Wasps on March 24.

Wood said: "It's such an unusual injury that nobody really knew how to manage it or get me back to fitness."

"There was a lot of trial and error and just seeing how we went."

"At times we didn't get it quite right and it flared up and set me back."

"There were times when I blew up in frustration that things were not happening quicker, and there were worrying signs that I may not get the strength and flexibility back after it had been immobilised for so long."

Earlier in the year it was decided that Wood should miss the Six Nations as a proactive move, and then he attempted a comeback in an LV Cup clash with Scarlets on March 11.

Unfortunately, his return to the field was hampered by a broken toe on the same foot in his very first match back.

"The day I returned from a foot injury somebody landed on the same foot in the line out," he said.

"I've never broken a toe before and that made life really difficult."

"If a rugby player breaks a finger or toe they just strap it up and get on with it, so that's what I tried to do, but the extra stress it put on my original injury made life really tough and I went backwards again."

"In the end I only lasted a couple of weeks before I was forced to rest again."

Wood had to sit and watch his team mates in action as he recovered, a deeply frustrating time as he felt he would have been fit enough to join in.

However, he would have been well short of 100 per cent and doing so would have flared up the injury.

Wood now wears stiffened boots among other protection measures and is relieved that past uncertainties can largely be forgotten now that the club seems to be more on top of the problem.

He said: "I desperately wanted to be involved but I had to think long term, about the duration of my career and everything else. Now, after a long and frustrating season last year, it's good to be back in the mix."

"There's nothing quite like waking up on a Sunday morning having been kicked to bits."

Andrew can't bag a victory

TABLE TENNIS

PRO Andrew Baggaley was unable to inspire his England team to a European Championship qualifying victory over Romania on Tuesday night.

The Northampton-born player, who competed in the London Olympics, lost his match in Hull as the home team slipped to a 3-1 defeat.

Twenty-nine-year-old Baggaley arrived at the table with England already 1-0 down, after Liam Pitchford lost a five-game thriller to Hunor Szocs. But he was unable to stop the rot as Ovidiu Ionescu strolled to a confident 3-0 win to put the Romanians in firm control.

Baggaley was quickly 7-3 behind in the first game, which he went on to lose 11-5, and in the second he fell further into the mire when he went 8-4 down.

A superb top-spin rally helped the Northamptonshire player back to 8-7, giving him momentum, but Ionescu strung together a quick three-point run to take the game.

In the third, Baggaley suffered from another slow start as he slipped to 6-1 behind, allowing the Romanian to stroll over the finishing line.

This meant Danny Read had to win his match with Adrian Dodean to keep the tie alive, and he duly did so with a five game win, but Ionescu then settled the tie with a 3-1 win over Pitchford.

It means that England have a victory and a defeat from their opening two qualifiers, after Baggaley recorded a victory during a 3-1 triumph in Slovakia. The team are aiming for the European Championships in Austria next year.

Mason off to winning start

BOXING

KYLE Mason got Far Cotton off to a winning start in Saturday's meeting at Aldershot.

He beat Barry Saunders, of Farnham Warriors, on a majority decision in what coach John Daly described as a "very good performance".

"It got us off to a good start, and now we can't wait to keep going," said Daly.

Morgan Bosley and Zac Clements both lost out, but the pair could be proud of their efforts.

Bosley, a national schoolboy finalist last year, was narrowly defeated on a majority decision by Michael Price of Sporting Ring ABC.

Bosley's performance helped contribute to the fight being named the best of the night.

Nineteen-year-old Clements also gave a good account of himself on his debut, with Daly saying he would learn a lot from his unanimous defeat to Chris Rowe, also of Farnham.

"He got into the ring for the first time, in front of people paying to see him fight and now he knows what it's about," said Daly.

"He was back in the gym straight away afterwards and he's working like mad to prepare for the next contest."

Johnson: We love Victoria!

FOOTBALL

BY JAMES AVERILL

sport@hnmmedia.co.uk

COBBLERS defender John Johnson hailed his team's victory at Dagenham & Redbridge, before admitting he rather liked playing at Victoria Road, as it usually results in a win.

Northampton continued their 100 per cent record against the home side in the league thanks to Adebayo Akinfenwa's second-half goal, sealing their third consecutive 1-0 away win against John Still's men on Tuesday.

"I was saying to the lads before the game it always feels like when we come here we win, so it's a nice place for us to come," said Johnson.

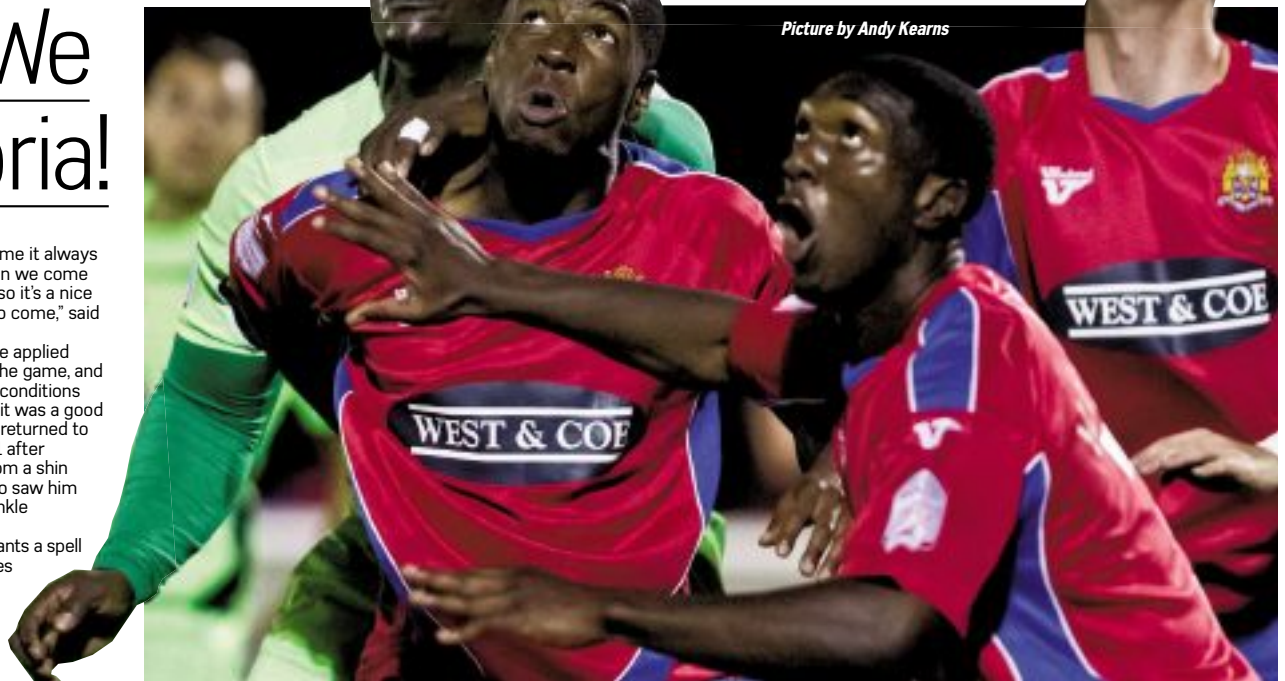

"I thought we applied ourselves to the game, and played to the conditions really well, so it was a good win." Johnson returned to the starting 11 after recovering from a shin injury that also saw him damage his ankle ligaments.

No player wants a spell on the sidelines while out injured, but Johnson says he just had

Foden out for 12 weeks

CROCKED: Ben Foden on sidelines

RUGBY

BY DAN PALMER

sport@hnmmedia.co.uk

JIM Mallinder knows that Ben Foden's lengthy injury lay-off will deprive Saints of one of their leaders.

The crocked England star is facing 12 weeks on the sidelines after damaging his ankle ligaments during Friday's 18-14 victory over Bath.

Foden has already had a scan and was set to see a specialist yesterday, but the outlook was not looking favourable for the 27-year-old full back, who may face an operation.

Saints Director of Rugby Mallinder believes he has the players to step into the breach but admitted that the loss would leave a tough hole to fill.

He said: "For us, he's that quality player.

"We've seen him develop, both on and off the field, over the last year or two and he's gained experience playing international rugby.

"He's become a real leader in our team and we just want him to get back as soon as he possibly can. At the moment we're talking about 12 weeks."

Mallinder said one silver lining was that Foden avoided a more serious injury which could have kept him out for longer.

"I guess you've got to be positive and think that it could have been a lot worse," he said.

"Ben's not had many injuries in the past and I think it was just one of those things.

"It was a bit of a man and ball incident, you could see his ankle just twisted.

"It's unfortunate, but the way we see it is that we were never going to have the same 15 going all the way through, and we would have probably lost him for a few autumn internationals anyway."

The injury has come at a bad time for Foden, who will miss key England games, with a British and Irish Lions tour looming on the horizon.

For Saints too, his absence coincides with a busy and important schedule of league and cup rugby.

Mallinder, who has steered his team to three league wins from three so far, said: "You need your big players for those big games. In the Heineken Cup they are the players who are used to going away from home and playing in front of noisy, partisan crowds. Hopefully, though, we'll have enough strength to see us through.

"We need players who are good enough to step up and fill Ben's position, and we think we've got that.

"He's a difficult act to follow but we have a number of options who can step in."
